Good afternoon! Over the past several months, Catawba College has been renegotiating our corporate contract with AT&T. As part of our negotiations, a benefit is extended to you, as an employee of Catawba College. By being an employee, a 17% discount off of plans and accessories is extended to you. If you are currently an AT&T customer and not taking advantage of this plan and wish to participate, there are two methods for signing up.

Option 1. Go to any AT&T store and let them know that you wish to participate in the Catawba College Individual Responsible User (IRU) Faculty Sponsorship Fan. The FAN number that you will need to provide them is 2755223. You will need to take along your Catawba ID as proof of employment. This takes about 5 minutes to sign-up for, if you already have an existing account.

Option 2. Go to https://www.wireless.att.com/business/enrollment/ to start the process. You will need to use your Catawba email address as your means of proof of employment.

If you are already participating in the College IRU FAN, please confirm that you are enrolled in the 2755223 FAN#. If not, please email me your cell phone # and I will have AT&T move your account.

If you are not currently an AT&T customer and wish to signup and participate in this plan, you can visit an AT&T store to start that process. You will need provide the information as outlined in Option 1 above.
